

Presents

Dr. Marcia Eckerd

A Working Guide to Your NLD Child

Dr. Marcia Eckerd will provide strategies on how to parent a child with NLD (nonverbal learning disabilities), who may learn to read and memorize with ease, yet face challenges in social, organization, motor skills and skills such as writing and math. She will discuss how to handle these children's lack of flexibility and cope with social challenges, including their tendency to miss social signals and their vulnerability to being misunderstood, taken advantage of or bullied.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 7:00 TO 9:00 PM

At the Fairfield Public Library, 1080 Old Post Rd, Fairfield, CT

Marcia Eckerd, PhD is a licensed psychologist in private practice and is on the medical staff at Norwalk Hospital in the Pediatric Development and Therapy Center. She provides therapy, comprehensive testing and parent/school consultations. She specializes in working with children, teens and adults with LD, anxiety, depression and ADHD as well as nonverbal learning disabilities and autistic spectrum disorders. Her blog, People Skills, is on Psychologytoday.com.

To register for this free program:
Email Programs@SmartKidswithLD.org
Or call 203-226-6703
www.SmartKidswithLD.org